"Very few of our clients ask us to provide them with translations only. Most of the projects that we deliver are either turn-key requiring little or no client intervention, or we provide a number of support services in addition to the translation component to make projects as easy, predictable and cost-effective as possible..."

Omni Tech Trans, LLC, is an award-winning and multi-faceted Language Services Provider (LSP) offering a complete range of foreign language, translation support and consulting services to corporations, businesses and government agencies located in Georgia, across the U.S. and on 4 continents in virtually all languages and scripts.

Our team of full-time language professionals has many decades of combined industry experience and we put this collective know-how to use to provide you with top-notch deliverables, affordable prices, knowledgeable and friendly customer service combined with total reliability. This is why we have virtually no customer and employee turnover and this is why we have been voted "Best in Category" for 5 consecutive years by Consumers' Choice Award*.

"Targeting your marketing & training efforts to reach non-English speaking users and those with limited English proficiency just makes good business sense!"

Our "Best Value" Proposition

Quality – Our experienced production team will use know-how, proven tools and processes to meet and exceed both your expectations and acceptance criteria, project after project.

Cost Savings – In addition to economies of scale, by putting the experience of our entire team at your disposal, Omni will always reduce your bottom-line costs. Project after project, year after year.

On-Time Delivery – Over the years Omni Tech has developed a close to 100% perfect record for on-time delivery. If, however, Omni Tech were to be responsible for late delivery, the fees invoiced for your project will be discounted by a predetermined percentage for every business day that we are late.

Customer Service – Omni Tech's business model and company growth are based on repeat business and referral. It's our goal to make sure that you receive the products and services you need. We will be there for you every step of the way.

Our Team

OmniTech's team includes hundreds of qualified, tested and verified linguists located around the world with whom we maintain long term relationships. They work in close contact with our project management, quality-assurance and project support people to create world-class deliverables.

Our team members are all native speakers; they have pertinent degrees and in-country industry expertise, and they know not only the language of the target country but also its "flavor", to ensure that you receive effective, idiomatic translations. This allows us to accommodate virtually any and all languages!
